

Noah Webster

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdnoahw.htm>

Noah Webster lived	do everything, even repair the building.
To support his family Webster	they needed one language.
As a teacher he had to	a spelling book and a grammar book.
Instead of flogging his students	during the time of George Washington.
When he lived with a judge he	than any book except the Bible.
Noah Webster wrote for students	selling his school books.
He traveled from town to town	he rewarded them to get them to learn.
Webster thought in order for people to work together	took a job teaching school.
When he wrote the dictionary	the right to publish the dictionary.
To learn the origin of words he	he changed some of the spellings of the words.
Webster's dictionary sold more copies	studied in libraries in three countries.
The Merriam family later bought	studied the judge's books and became a lawyer