

Madam C.J. Walker

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdwalker.htm>

In 1917 Madam C.J. Walker	hair products for African-American women
She developed a line of cosmetics and	both her parents died.
When she was young she	to show that her product worked.
Some women developed scalp problems	helped her develop her hair products.
The "Walker System" helped	were freed slaves.
Sarah Breedlove's parents	because they thought shampooing was not good.
When she was eight years old	women go into business for themselves.
At age fourteen	was one of the wealthiest women in America.
Some think a pharmacist	she married Moses McWilliams.
She used "before" and "after" pictures	picked cotton and washed clothes for people.
She called her school	wouldn't have anything to do with Walker.
At first Booker T. Washington	Lelia College after her daughter.