

"Which Toothpaste Really Makes Your Smile Shine?"

I had a lot of ideas for my project this year. I decided to do a project on toothpaste. I wanted to find out what brand of toothpaste would get teeth whiter. I thought Crest extra whitening would be the best because that's the kind that my dentist told me to use.

I decided to do an experiment to find out if my hypothesis was correct. I chose six different extra whitening toothpastes. Then I decided to use eggs because they are a lot like bones. I soaked six eggs in grape juice and six in tea. Then after 12 hours I took the eggs out of the liquid and let them dry. Then I drew a small square on each egg. I brushed each egg with a different toothpaste for one minute.

The eggs I brushed with Crest were the whitest. I asked a lot of other people which they thought were the whitest. They all chose set A. (That was Crest.) The Crest even got whiter than a tube of special toothpaste you have to get from a pharmacy. The dentist said that toothpaste was bleaching gel and worked better with a mouthpiece.

So my conclusion is that Crest extra whitening is the best toothpaste to brush with every day. My hypothesis was correct. Crest gets teeth whiter.
