

Creation Memory Pegs

These Creation memory pegs help the children remember the days of Creation.

A running light bulb? Yes, that will help us to remember that on Day One, God created light.

A shoe falling from the sky reminds us that on Day Two, God separated the waters and created the sky, or firmament.

A tree upside-down! What a funny picture. But it helps us to remember that on Day Three, God created the trees, flowers and grass.

The sun and moon going out the door to see the stars remind us that on Day Four, God created the sun, moon and stars.

We see a bird and a fish going around the hive. This makes us remember that on Day Five, God created the birds and fish.

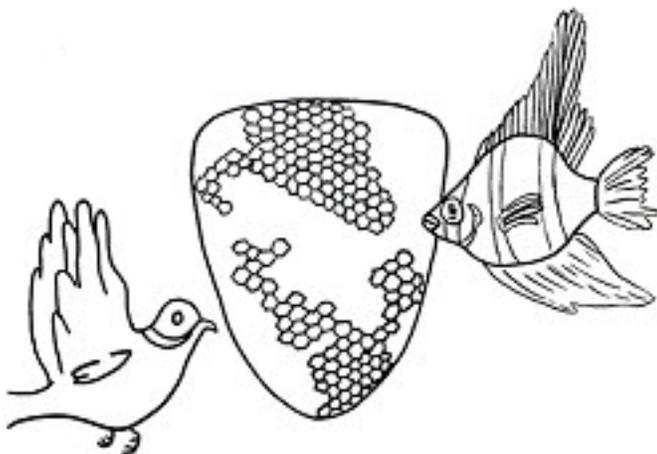

A man and a pig eating sticks! This makes us recall that on Day Six, God created all the animals and Adam and Eve.
