

Henry Ford

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdford.htm>

When he was a boy	become an apprentice machinist.
His interest in machines led him to	earned $125 a month.
He had a son, Edsel	Henry Ford carried nuts and bolts in his pockets.
When he was twenty-eight years old	40 hour week and eight hour workday.
As chief engineer at Edison he	was an airplane made by the Ford company.
The first car Ford made	cost $950.
People called the Model T Ford	for whom he later named a car.
The first Model T touring car	as a result of the assembly line.
The cost of cars came down to $360	the "Tin Lizzie" and the "Flivver".
Ford's motto	was called the Quadricycle.
Ford instituted the	was "simplicity".
The "Tin Goose"	he became an engineer at Edison Company.